

Nutrition for Two

"YOU HAVE THE POWER TO CREATE AN OPTIMAL ENVIROMENT FOR YOU AND YOUR BABY'S GROWTH."

Eat Real Food

- Aim for 80 grams of protein the first half of your pregnancy and 100 grams the second half
- Carbs should consist of 16-25% of your diet and are ideally unprocessed and low glycemic (broccoli, lettuce, greens, cauliflower, brussel sprouts, cucumbers)
- Aim for a healthy fat at each meal and with each snack (extra virgin olive oil, avocado, butter)

Fluids

- Aim to drink 100 ounces of water a day (use an app, buy a large water bottle)
- Don't forget about your electrolytes, especially salt

How Much and When

- You need to consume only 300 extra calories a day based on your individual needs and activity level (consult a doctor or talk to your midwife here)
- Eat smaller meals and a few snacks a day

Postpartum

- Continue with your high protein intake
- Drink LOTS of water to stay hydrated and keep your electrolytes balanced
- It takes around 500 extra calories a day to make breast milk so plan to eat accordingly
- Complex carbs, such as sweet potatoes, help with energy
- Support your liver due to hormone shifts (dandelion root, green foods)
- Electrolytes are important (can be as simple as a pinch of Celtic sea salt under your tongue)
