

Seeking WHOLE HEALTH

Natural Health in Community

What We Believe

We believe you can build a healthy, vibrant life using the healing foods and natural remedies God created. And while you can learn a lot with books and the internet, there's nothing like learning how to do this in-person with others by your side.

What We Offer

When guests join us for a Seeking Whole Health Conference or small event, they'll enjoy expert teaching, practical guidance, and a grace-filled community of like-minded friends. We strive to give them the tools and encouragement they need to reclaim their health for God's glory and fulfill His calling on their lives.

Impacting More Lives

We're committed to impacting more people, building our reach, and helping you connect with our growing community.

What Our Sponsors Say

“ Being part of the Seeking Whole Health Conference has been life-changing. I'm so grateful for everyone who makes this event possible, the friendships that are formed, and the wealth of knowledge I walk away with. I will definitely sponsor again!

Miranda Hupp, Country Bloom Farm

“ We traveled from Colorado to Ohio to be at the Seeking Whole Health Conference and it was absolutely worth it. It's an extremely well-organized event that gave us great exposure and sales through email marketing, social media posts, and event interactions.

McCall Knecht, Boroux

“ This is a very well-organized and smoothly run event. I made friends and connections there that have lasted far beyond the conference itself. I'm so glad to be involved!

Marlin Miller, Plain Values Magazine

“ We were honored to sponsor the Seeking Whole Health Conference. This mutually beneficial relationship has given us increased brand recognition, farm store foot traffic, sales, and most importantly, deeper relationships with our local community who value what we stand for.

Kimberly Hartzler, Selah Farms

“ The Seeking Whole Health Conference is one of our favorite events. We've connected with speakers and attendees alike who are looking for the products we offer. These long-lasting relationships make our sponsorship fruitful year-round.

Perry Erb, Natural Hope Herbals

“ We really enjoyed the Seeking Whole Health Conference and connecting with everyone there. We were blessed to be around both attendees and speakers who want to seek first God's kingdom and live healthy lives for His glory!

John Filbrun, The Maker's Meadow
